NEW MEMBERS TO JOIN FACULTY

To compensate for the loss of eight faculty members this year, a total of 10 new men will join the faculty for the 1959-1960 academic year.

Dr. Stephen Kellner who is a graduate of the University of Rochester will replace Dr. Henry Lemaire as associate professor Physical Chemistry. Dr. Lemaire is entering industry with RCA in Needham, Mass.

Mr. Frank Vartuli who received his Master's of Science degree at UVM will become assistant professor in Science upon the departure of Dr. Robert Raphael for the Seminary.

Mr. Bernard Gore, who received his Master of Arts degree at Loyola University, Montreal, will succeed Mr. William Kinsley. He will be assistant professor in English. Mr. Kinsley is leaving for France where he will spend a year of study.

Mr. Charles McGinnis, who received his Master of Arts degree at Boston College, will come to St. Michael's as assistant professor in English and Humanities. He is to fill the vacancy left by Dr. Fairbanks, head of the Humanities Program, who for a year will be visiting professor at the University of Saigon in Viet Nam.

The Modern Language department will lose one instructor and gain three professors. Lionel Simard who taught French and pioneered in the teaching of Russian this past year has a grant to visit Russia.

New to the department will be Rev. Dr. Francis Gokey, S.S.E., assistant professor of classical languages;

Dr. Alfred Cismaru, assistant professor of Romance languages, and a graduate of New York University;

Dr. Gabriel Vrsic, assistant professor of Linguistics and Slavic Languages. He has his degree from the University of Montreal.

ROTC

In the Air Science Department, replacing Major Hurley, Captain Rice, and Captain Blakesley will be three officers who are returning from overseas duty. Major Michael Jacobs whose last assignment was in Germany is among the three. The other two are Major Colin Riley who is also returning from Germany and Captain Robert Wilkens who is returning from England.

BARRY, PRES. OF STUDENT COUNCIL

by Fred Englert

The members of the 1960 Student Council met for the first time Tuesday evening. Foremost of the agenda was the election of next years council officers conducted by ex-president Ronald LaFleur.

Those elected included President Dave Barry, Vice-President Charles O'Brien, Recording Secretary Fred Englert, Corresponding Secretary Dick Hickey, and Treasurer Jack Donahue. There were no opposing candidates.

BARRY

President Barry, class of '60, has been a member of the Student Council for the past three years. As a freshman, he was class representative. The following year he was elected president and currently is secretary of the Junior class. Within the Student Council this year, Dave was the Recording Secretary and a member of the Inter-class Activities Committee.

The officers of the "1959" Student Council who will not be returning next year are Ronald LaFleur (Pres.), Jim Canavan (V. Pres.) and Charles Gallagher (Tres.). They are but a few of those who must now remember the Council and be remembered for their successful efforts in it.

BUSINESS

The only business conducted during this first meeting was a resolution proposed by Dick Hickey, '61. As passed, it provided that September 26 be the tentative date for a Junior Class dance next year.

The Organization of Club Presidents also held elections Tuesday. The purpose of these elections was to select three club presidents for voting status in next years Student Council. Those chosen were Juniors Jim Aquino, Dave Dowd and Bill Mazur. Other club presidents are council members with a voice but no vote.

David Barry, '60, unanimously elected President of the Student Council.

COMMENTS

In closing comments, Fr. Coombs, Dean of Men and Moderator of the Council praised the work of the Council of '58-'59. Father stated, "This past Student Council was active and productive in representing their respective classes and clubs" Fr. Coombs also wished the best of luck to the new council in its undertaking during the coming year.

Dr. Malik, Madden At Graduation Weekend

Dr. Charles H. Malik of Lebanon, President of the United Nations General Assembly will be the honored Commencement speaker this year for St. Michael's College. The 56th Commencement will be Monday, June 8, in the Burlington Auditorium. A class of 125 will be graduated.

Dr. Charles Malik

Dr. Malik, now on leave from the American University of Beirut, Lebanon, is at present serving his country as a diplomat. Dr. Malik is a graduate of Harvard University where he earned his M.A. and Ph.D. in Philosophy.

Holder of more than 20 honorary degrees from Americolleges and universities, Dr. Malik has written and spoken widely and eloquently on freedom and human rights. One of the architects of the United Nations, Dr. Malik signed the United Nations charter in 1945 for his country.

WEEKEND ACTIVITIES

The activities of the June 6-7-8 weekend are actually divided into two parts: Senior Weekend, the social part of the weekend, extending from a luncheon Saturday afternoon to the Communion Breakfast Sunday morning, and Commencement activities which begin at the President's Reception on Sunday in the Library and end with the graduation exercises Monday morning at 10.

The popular Eddie Madden and his orchestra will be one of the feature highlights of the Senior Weekend to be held on June 6-7-8. Madden will play at the Senior Ball to be held at the beautiful Oakledge Manor on the shores of Lake Champlain.

MADDEN RETURNS

This will be Madden's second appearance at St. Michael's. His first appearance was at the Winter Knights '59 Weekend. Aside from conducting his own band. Madden is also a composer and arranger. He has appeared with such artists as Patti Page, Four Lads, Jerry Vale, Ames Brothers, Frankie Laine and many others. Also he has written many arrangements for such names as Buddy Morrow, Ted Herbert, Marvel Records to name but a few.

The weekend will commence with a luncheon to be held on Saturday afternoon in the

SMC Alumnus Tops In Public Relations

Hollywood, Fla., May 15 - The international people-to-people public relations program carried out by Soiltest Inc. of Chicago, under the direction of a St. Michael's College alumnus, Thomas J. McNeil, Vice-President for Public Relations, was announced winner of the Certificate of Achievement in the Silver Anvil Awards Competition at the Diplomat Hotel and Country Club.

The program was sponsored by the American Public Relations Association meeting here at its 15th annual convention.

The award, comparable in public relations to the Pulitzer prize in the newspaper field, was made by Stanley House, Chairman of the Silver Anvil awards competition. It was given for the entry in the International Public Relations Division and was underscored by the theme of the convention was "Public Relations - Vanguard of Global Understanding."

The entry described the public relations program conducted by Soiltest, Inc., manufacturer of engineering testing equipment used throughout the world, to both support the people-to-people program President Eisenhower has urged American business to foster and to improve communications and sales activities between this small American firm and its foreign markets. The recognition given this program attested to its success.

The basis of the program were visitations to 23 countries in Europe, the Middle and Near East, South and Central America and the Carribean by three Soiltest executives, Theodore W. Van Zelst, President, Edward E. Brush, Vice-President for Sales and McNeil. The effectiveness of this program was evaluated by Conger Reynolds, Director of the Office of Private Cooperation of the United States Information Agency, who said:

". . .This is a real people-to-people activity of the type we are anxious to promote. It multiplies impacts without taking the time of busy official representatives of the "U.S. government. . ."

The program involved meeting with hundreds of engineers, professional people, the press and government officials in the course of the visitations. A film on the St. Lawrence Seaway construction was used to demonstrate an example of the engineering and scientific activities in the United

by P. Terrence O'Grady

As one sits down to write his last contribution to a St. Michael's effort in journalism the occasion seems to require special recognition and an appropriate final Parthian arrow. At first I was inclined to ignore the situation and proceed as usual, pretending not to realize. I could always write that column on God's Gift to Persecuted Minorities, Eleanor Roosevelt, or T.S. Elliot and Ezra Pound as the most perceptive social critics of the American social scene. Perhaps I may have even worked up the nerve to do one on college professor s pragmatic acquiessence to the intellectual level of the student. But I suppose it would better behoove me to close in some general evaluation of my state of mind as I depart forever from the hallowed walls of clapboard on Acquinas Hall.

It also seemed as if I should find some eminently quotable keynote in order to bring my summary thoughts into focus. I discarded Lear's "Nothing comes from nothing"; I discarded Hamlet's "Words, words, words". Then I thought I had something in the Italian Philosopher Giadano Bruno "To love the good and the beautiful you must abhor the multitude". But that had too many disgusting implications to be used. So with typical Michaelman monchalance I discarded the notion of a keynote altogether (even more typically I almost decided not to write the column at all).

Finally I struck upon the question and answer method (I've always wanted to be interviewed anyhow).

What do you think is St. Michael's greatest fore?

The Humanities program where its students become imbued with the principles of their Judeo - Christian heritage and the tradition of Western Civilization. What do you feel is St. Michael's greatest contribution to you? The impression of a liberal intellectual development in the truest sense of the word. What do you think is the greatest danger to be avoided while in college. Intellectual dishonesty and social hypocricy. What has been your greatest realization while at college? I have little wonder that there be mute inglorious millions.

How do you feel as you're about to come face to face with whatever it is that you face? That question is more difficult to answer. I could sublimate myself into the Princeton type and say I felt like St. George with no dragon. Or I could say I felt like Aneus without a Rome (well, I've incurred the wrath of the pedestal placed demi-gods at least. But to say these things would be dishonest. Because I really feel like Plato's hypothetical man who after a long journey is finally reaching the mouth of the cave but suffering from nervous prostration along the way at the rising cost of fuel.

IT PAINS US...

Have the social criers changed to negligent and irresponsible Michaelman?

During the past couple of months, the area of Ryan Hall has witnessed the 'tides of war.' This area has constantly been littered with refuse and most significantly, broken coke bottles. It certainly is appalling to see and hear of the nonsense that has been taking place while a certain faction continues to menace the campus.

After all, Michaelmen, St. Michael's College is not a philanthropic organization and seeing the damages are costly, it's about time that some of our beloved brethen realized this.

INQUIRING PHOTOGRAPHER

by Gene Reagan

Question: What did you enjoy most in your 4 yrs. at S.M.C.?

John Dattis, Class of '59
Worcester, Massachusetts

I think the most important event of my college career will be the celebration of Joe Ostrowski Day. This festive event will terminate four years of exhaustive study of extra-curricular activities at St. Michael's. We hope that following underclassmen will continue to uphold this precedent. All Seniors who have not yet made their reservations, please contact Tom Brown.

Mark Haddock, Class of '59
Scotch Plains, New Jersey

I believe that the most outstanding feature of my four years at St. Michael's is the upcoming celebration of Joe Ostrowski Day which will be attended by a select group of seniors. This affair will mark the culmination of four years of diligent application to my outside interests. A committee that has been working for almost a full year reports that preparations are nearing completion. We all hope that the committee will set a precedent that will be followed in years to come.

Charles R. Gallagher, Class of '60, Albany, New York

The thing I enjoyed most during my four years at St. Michael's is striving for the goal befitting of every Michaelman: To infuse the spirit of Michaelmen on the scholastic, social and spiritual level. Keeping this goal in mind, I have been able to satisfy my obligations to myself and to those with whom I came in contact. Next month will mark the culmination of my endeavors and with these in mind, I feel as though I am adequately prepared for the future.

The Broken Fungo

by Vin Farrell

"As the sun sinks slowly into the west we bid a fond farewell to quaint and beautiful Bavaria mit alte friends und schon piltzen brew". This is not a commercial for the Breton but I felt nostalgia upon leaving the warm and congenial confines of the "Chittenden Reservation". You perhaps know this is the last of the "Woodlore and Wildlife" columns I shall be writing. If I inadvertantly left any names out during the year I am sorry, but maybe they will have a large "Inquiring Photographer" section this week. I must confess that I enjoyed doing this "compendium of libel" I hope I have not desecrated any person or institution too much. If I have . . . well blame it on a clouding of the intellect and darkening of the will . . . I don't know if there are any aspiring "Fungoteers", if there are, the hours are good, pay is "soso" and the backtalk is terrific. I have been accused several times of venturing into the relm of the intellectual . . . or quasi intellectual . . . I know the vast majority of the readers is apt to say: "Farrell, I really don't care if Calhoun based his thinking on the Kentucky and Virginia Resolves (an answer to the Alien and Seditition act of the Federalist) and was out in left field about Sovereignty. (. . .Pronounced "Sov-ren-ty), I just want to see more "Dump-ons". Well, as I have your interest always in the innermost reaches of my heart, I feel I must advise you that this county is based on the "federal systen" and that such "ambulance chasers" as John Marshall (a pretty good night court judge) felt that this country was not a confederation of states that could call the shots as they saw them (C/F Cohens vs Virginia, Fletcher vs Peck and McCulloch vs Maryland, just to mention a few).

Well, having spoken on strictly academic matters I feel that I must now say goodbye . . . You have been a most attentive audience . . . Keep Paulin Park clean and study hard . . . . . Hazel, Cafarelli, Clancy and Starr . . . Get off my back . . . . Say you read it in the MICHAELMAN . . . . . Good night.

LITERARY OBSCENITY

"Not very long ago it would have been regarded as shocking to find girls in their teens reading the kind of books they are now writing." This was the conclusion reached by Robert Clurman in his "In and Out of Books" column in the "New York Times Book Review," (Aug. 19, 1956). Mr. Clurman had been discussing Francoise Sagan, author of "Bonjour Tristesse" and "A Certain Smile".

The emergence of American contenders in what the "Times" calls the "Sagan sweepstakes" is especially evident in the relatively current novel "Peyton Place". The novel, according to the blurb, "lifts the lid off a small New England town and brings Tobacco Road up north and gives it a Yankee accent." More truthfully, an unbearable stench is let loose by the lifted lid, and the Yankee accent is couched in some of the foulest language yet to be printed in our age. Grace Metallius yields nothing in her ability to shame and shock us from here to eternity.

The authors of this type of literary lasciviousness, so overflowingly apparent in the works of Mlle. Sagan and Grace Mettalius, defend themselves on the ground that this sort of thing is "artistic realism". The "artists" of such salacious fodder have one great cause to defend -- namely what they call "intellectual freedom"; that is, their own holy privilege of moral anarchism and social irresponsibility.

Being realistic about the matter, we can't help but realize that this so-called freedom is nothing but pernicious shame. The expression of men's thought and imagination in works of art cannot be divorced fror its social consequences, where artful appeals to sensuality, immorality, and degeneracy are widely disseminated. The maintenance of a high standard of human decency is essential to civilized life and liberty. This does not involve a foolish prudery which makes the adult treatment of certain human problems and situations impossible; but it does involve intolerance towards mere filth and perversion where no end is served except that of "making a fast buck" by selling obscenity.

GALLAGHER EXCELS IN GRAD EXAMS

MICHAELMAN columnist Joseph Gallagher is a conformist. Most of his colleagues figured he'd cream the English section of the Scholastic Record exams. The author of "The House of Supposition" did just that.

When last heard from, Joe had hit 790, placing him in the ultra, ultra top bracket in the nation. He's up there with less than one half of one per cent of the country's top cream.

MAGNET

An omnivorous reader with a magnet's ability to gather what comes near, Gallagher had taken the tests once before in January "for practice". That time, he had an "off day", getting only 650. With the chips down, Joe came through, not only in his concentration, but also in his general standing.

NOTRE DAME

Joe who was given a chance to lead an occasional class this past year has a fellowship to Notre Dame University this fall. Our congratulations on behalf of the students to Joe Gallagher and to the men who helped prepare him for his noteworthy triumph. Fellow we feel sorry for is the lad who tries his column next year.

[Editor's Note: What happened to the column this week, Joe?]

Co-chairmen Nick Cioffi and John Moore.

Cioffi And Moore Co-chairmen Of J.W.

By ROBERT CORNELL

Nick Cioffi and John Moore will head next year's Junior Weekend. The popular pair were elected by the Class of 1961 in a special ballot during class elections.

Cioffi was active while in high school and was responsible for obtaining Buddy Morrow and his band for his class Senior Prom. Cioffi, from Norwalk, Conn., is a licensed drummer in New York City and has played at the Club 90 in Greenwich Village.

COLLEGE ACTIVITIES

While at St. Michael's, Cioffi has been active in the Politics and Outing Clubs, has debated interclass, and is at present carrying his own show on the campus radio station, W.S.S.E.

Moore is a member of St. Michael's Championship Drill Team and is active in both the Glee Club and the Outing Club. Moore was a Co-chairman of the committee that decorated for this year's Winter Carnival, and is presently secretary of the New York Area Club. He makes his home in Summit, N.J. Plans for next year's Junior Weekend are already in process and both Co-chairmen are now picking the various subordinate committee heads.

THEME UNKNOWN

Many ideas for themes have been presented to the new Co-chairmen, but as of yet no definite theme has been chosen.

With the present Junior Weekend now in full swing, the Co-chairmen made this comment, "We will equal and attempt to surpass the fine Weekend now in progress."

THE ROAD TO PILTDOWN

Man-about-Manhattan Barton Reeb has a real "head" on his shoulders. His favorite bartender told him recently his last name spelled backwards is "beer."

—From a Broadway column.

Chief Detective Gordon Whitewhistle, high man on the totem pole which "insiders" allude to as the Greater New York Alias Squad, regarded me pettishly out of the cornea of his eye. "So you're Reeb's favorite barman, eh?" he queried, shooting his cuffs with a small revolver. "You know how these columnists exaggerate," I said deprecatingly, and went on stashing Schaefer into the refrigerator behind the bar.

"Why all the Schaefer?" he interrogated. "Mr. Reeb always treats the house," I commented. "He says that's what you hear in the best of circles—Schaefer all around!" "Yes, and then he talks about its smooth round taste—never sharp, never flat," Whitewhistle ruminated presciently, absently fondling a kipper from the free lunch. "Right now lad, your life isn't worth a plugged nickel or, for that matter, a nickeled plug." He produced a photo from a bulging card case. "I give you Barton Reeb, alias Edwin d'Nour, alias Philippe Refeahcs."

"Edwin Round! Philippe Schaefer!" I deciphered proudly, my unique talent asserting itself. "The man is a famous jewel thief, enamored of Schaefer," the detective expounded waspishly. "And you have now stripped him of his latest nom de guerre."

A shadow fell across the door, righted itself, came forward; Whitewhistle dove into a pool of darkness behind a potted palm as Barton Reeb entered. Although bent on taking my life, Reeb straightened suddenly to study a Schaefer sign, and in that moment Whitewhistle made his arrest. "What's your name lad?" he chortled to me as he led Reeb away. "Bob Dood," I riposted with a snicker. Wait till the columnists get their teeth into that little sally.

THE F. & M. SCHAEFER BREWING CO., NEW YORK and ALBANY, N. Y.

Fund Goal In Sight

by Robert E. Pellegrine

The St. Michael's College Alumni Fund has to date realized $41,802.71, of the proposed $100,000 goal aimed for by December of this year.

Alumni secretary Thomas J. Kenney said that so far, 20.6% of the alumni have contributed to the fund so that he feels there is a good chance of reaching the goal.

The sum of this money will be set aside for the physical development of the college, particularly for the proposed student union building.

This money is being raised by personal solicitation under the National Fund Chairman Thomas H. McNamara. Participating in this drive are 300 St. Michael's Alumni. So far there have been received four gifts of $1,000 each from degree holding alumni.

The alumni development program is to be a 10 year program and will attempt to tap many sources of revenue, not only the alumni. Besides these they will seek assistance from foundations and business firms, parents, friends of the college and students.

College officials are now meeting to make the final plans on the development program.

The St. Michael's Alumni are ranked among the top 10 and were ranked last year as number 8 among comparable colleges in the nation in the average Alumni fund gift.

Club Presidents Elect Chairman

by F.J. McGuirk

On Tuesday evening, May 12 1959, the Organization of Club Presidents met for the first time to elect a Chairman for the organization and one third of its members to a vote in the Student Council.

Under the present constitution of the Student Council, it is stipulated that the Organization of Club Presidents shall be composed of the chief executive officer of each recognized represented club; that they shall elect one-third of their number as voting representatives on the Student Council and that the remaining two-thirds shall have a voice but no vote.

"For the present time, the members of the Organization are Presidents: Dave Dowd of the Chemistry Club, John Chatowski of the Politics Club, Frank Steele of the Outing Club, Bill Mazur-WSSE, Fred Burkle-Pre-Medical Society, Jim Aquino-Glee Club, Dick Hickey-editor of the MICHAELMAN and "Chick" O'Brien-editor of the Shield.

Since January 1959, the Lance, Knights and Knaves and the Education clubs have become inactive due to lack of underclass membership. However, these clubs may become active again next year if they are given the necessary support.

The elections Tuesday named Jim Aquino as Chairman and Dave Dowd, Bill Mazur, Jim Aquino, as voting members of the Student Council.

If the new constitution that is pending is accepted next year, each and every President of the Organization of Club Presidents shall be a voting member of the Student Council.

Under the present constitution however, Dick Hickey and Charlie O'Brien were not eligible to be given a vote for they already possess one, being elected officers of their respective classes.

WEEKEND

College Dining Hall at which Dr. Henry Lemaire will be the main speaker. Later that evening there will be a dinner dance held at the beautiful Oakledge Manor at which the Very Rev. Gerald E. Dupont, S.S.E., President of St. Michael's College, will be the main speaker. Along with Fr. Dupont, other speakers will be the senior class president, Albert Brault, who will represent the sentiments of the students, Mr. Maurice Brault, Albert Brault's father, who will represent the parents, Mr. William Burke, M.A., Lic. Ph., to whom the Senior year book is dedicated, who will represent the faculty and Lieutenant Colonel Wiley M. Bondurant, U.S.A.F., Professor of Air Science here at St. Michael's.

Dr. Edward F. Murphy will be the Master of Ceremonies at both the luncheon and dinner dance. A Communion Breakfast, at which the Very Rev. Fr. Charles Marcoux of Burlington, Vt., will be the main speaker, in the College Dining Hall, will climax the social part of the weekend.

The Commencement Exercises will begin with the President's Reception to be held in the College Library, Sunday afternoon, immediately followed by that evening at 8:30 with the Baccalaureate.

The Very Rev. Vincent S. Waters, D.D., Bishop of Raleigh, North Carolina, will be the Baccalaureate speaker. Bishop Waters is admired in his diocese for his work especially in intergrating the churches. It was through his leadership that the Catholic churches under him were intergrated even before the Supreme Court made school intergration compulsory.

The graduation Monday morning will not only mark the ending of Commencement but also the weekend as a whole.

The most noteworthy benefit or enjoyment while attending St. Michael's College was the coalescence between student and teacher, may it be scholastically or social. Also, the unbiased, - except in a few occasions - opinions expressed in class, i.e. not strictly a catholic viewpoint. I must not forget to mention the solidarity among the students in their participation of interclass activities and weekends. Not but least, the everlasting friendships among my classmates. Finally, the remembrance of the big socials on campus.

It is still his firm opinion that the examination list scheduled for that page would have been more newsworthy that the bootlegged intelligence that he has reached the age beyond which objects are reckoned as antiques.

However, I'm like the old gentleman who was asked how he enjoyed a gift of brandied peaches. "I haven't swallowed 'em yet, but I appreciate the spirit in which they were sent".

One final, critical note: when I reach 100, please record the fact that the moderator is very proud of having started the MICAHELMAN and of the staff that has produced such a fine paper this year.

Glee Club Successful On Trips

The Glee Club had one of its most successful trips this past week when it sang at Our Lady of the Elms College in Chicopee, Mass. Not only were the critics kind, but the young ladies of the Elms suggested that they'd like to have the new prexy, Jim Aquino, bring his singers back another year.

The same reaction was noted at St. Joseph College in West Hartford which has already asked the club back.

Outgoing President Jack Bucalo turned in his report to the Council, showing a profit of $550 for the year, the best financial report the club has had and an outstanding money making venture on campus. The profit wiped clean the bill the club had because of the money advanced to help pay for the blue blazers the club has worn for the past two years.

The club also got a special hand for its performance during Parents' Weekend. Mrs. Philip Spina took it on herself to write Perry Como and request that he give the club a break. The boys are waiting.

Massachusetts Scholarships

by John W. Sinnott

Governor Foster Forculo has recently requested the general court of Massachusetts to grant a budget appropriation to enable the Board of Educational Assistance to award as many scholarships as practicable.

Although final determination as to the number of scholarships available is not known, applications are being accepted. The forms to be filled out may be obtained from Mr. Garrett, Registrar St. Michael's College.

ELIGIBILITY

An applicant to be eligible must be a resident of Massachusetts, and must be academically qualified and in need of financial assistance.

The necessary forms must be submitted to school authorities for nominations purposes. From there they will be sent on to the Board of Educational Assistance. Applications must be submitted before the dead-line of June 1, 1959.

CHARTER FOR FRESHMEN HONOR SOCIETY SOUGHT

Fifteen students at St. Michael's College, Mr. Thomas Garrett, Director of Admissions said, have signed a petition to the Executive Committee of Phi Eta Sigma, for the establishment of a chapter at St. Michael's.

CATHOLIC CHAPTER

If the chapter is set up this fall as expected, St. Michael's will be the second Catholic college to have a chapter. The sophomores who hope to become members of the fraternity are James Tobin, Camilo Brenes, Richard L. Hickey, David Mahon, Robert Peelegrin, Pedro Qurios, Paul Desroches, Hugh F. McCall, John Stewart, Denis W. Lanctot, Joseph E. Rowan, Donald Dakin, Ronald Ducham and Jamee Willard.

ENCOURAGE FROSH

Phi Eta Sigma, whose purpose is to encourage freshmen scholarship will base eligibility for membership solely on scholarship. A ninety average will be the minimum for all condidates. Besides trying to stimulate scholarship among freshmen the society will be an active group in campus activities such as tutoring students, setting up smokers, parties, counciling and any others according to their wishes.

ACTIVE MEMBERS

If the fraternity is set up at St. Michael's, sophomores will be the active members who will choose from the list of freshman candidates who the new members will be. Active participation by the sophomores will cease when they select new members. Delegates from the chapter would be sent to national bi-annual conventions to elect and vote on new chapters.

Mr. Garrett hopes that the fraternity would work in conjunction with the Delta Epsilon Sigma, Honor Society, and the Faculty Committee on Scholarship. He also hopes that it will provide the stimulus among freshmen to achieve high academic standing.

BRIEFS

St. Michael's AFROTC Drill Team, three time New England Champions, recently held a banquet at the newly installed Officers' Club at Ethan Allen A.F.B.

The Drill Team had the honor of receiving the first meals ever served in the new club. Major Joseph W. Hurley was the master of ceremonies. A few of the keynote speakers were; Rev. Fr. Paul A. Morin, S.S.E., Academic Dean, Lieutenant Colonel Wiley M. Bondurant, Professor of Air Science at St. Michael's College and host at the banquet, Capt, Vernon D. Gores, Commandment of Cadets and Cadet Major Laurence K. Clifford, commander of the Drill Team.

The Drill Team members received jackets and blankets as awards for their successful year.

BRIEF

Alpha Nu Chapter at St. Michael's College which is part of the Delta Epsilom Sigma, a nationally known honor society has elected Mr. John D. Donoghue, public relations director at St. Michael's, President and Mr. Albert Brault, a senior at St. Michael's, Vice-President.

Approximately 30 members attended the election which took place Tuesday afternoon in College Hall. Last year Dr. Edward J. Pfeifer, assistant professor of History, was elected president and George Latimer vice-president. It is a common practice to choose a president who will be available at all times.

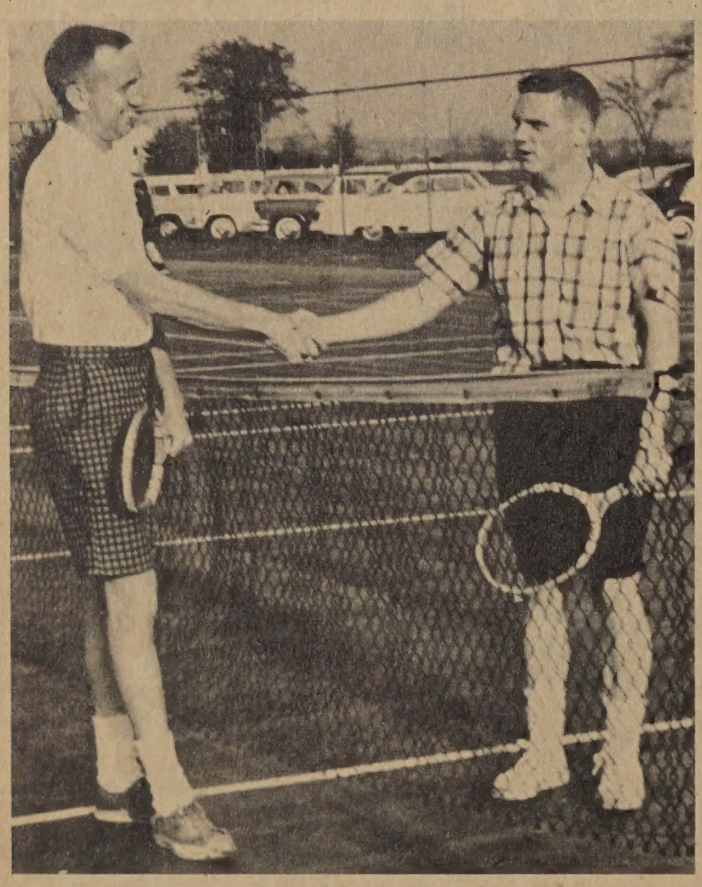
Knights End Poor Season; Lose 4-2

JOON DAKIN SPORTS DESK RYAN 220

They said it couldn't be done! But what do you know, the Yankees are in second division and losing games steadily. Everyone who has been hating the Bronx Bombers for the past decade and even further back is in his glory. "The Yanks are done"! Those who for years have shouted, "Break up the Yankees"! are now walking erect with hard wooden chips on their shoulders. Like every organization, after years of power internal decay eventually takes the upper hand. No one was good enough to beat the Yankees until they weren't good enough to win. "The Yanks are through"!

However some advice is in order - - - Don't count the New York Yankees out! It is much too early to determine the pennant winner. With all the loses they've suffered, Casey's boys are still only four games out of first place. Don't get me wrong. I'm not defending the faltering Bombers. What I am doing is being careful. I hate the Yankees as much as any Dodger fan can. It was Yogi Berra and company that kept Brooklyn in tears for years. In fact it was due mostly to the Yankees that Flatbush cried - - "Wait till next year" for almost 10 years. If anyone were to lead a "Down with the Yankees Crusade" I would aid it.

But not this year! No one will win the 1959 American League title except the same old striped uniformed players. It may be tougher than other years but the front office will come up with some new deal which will put New York on top again this season. It can be done, the Yankees can be beaten in the Juniorcircuit. But not this year! Look for the Yankees and the Dodgers in the Series in September.



Armstrong - Kennedy In Tennis Finals

by Joe Rowan

The interclass tennis singles tournament is going into finals. The tournament under the direction of George Cronin was scheduled to be concluded on Thursday.

Of the original 32 players, the eight best tennis competitors in each class were reduced to the two finalists, Fred Armstrong and Walt Kennedy. The winner of each match is the victor of the best two out of three set up to quarter finals. After that phase the winner is the player of the best three out of five sets.

There have been several surprising upsets in the singles tourney so far. The biggest upset, however, was the Cronin-Keller match. Cronin, who won the crown last year, gave the sharp playing freshman, Keller, a real run for his money. Keller won 6-0, 1-6, 6-3, 2-6, and 7-5.

Armstrong beat Joe Phelan in the quarter-finals and Dennis Horgan in the semi-finals 7-5, 7-5, 6-0. He was the first to become a finalist.

Wednesday Kennedy beat Keller. Horgan and Keller, the two losers to the finalists, were also pitted against each other Thursday.

GOLF TEAM IN STATE TOURAMENT

by Bob Camisa

As of Thursday the St. Michaels College Linksmen have ended their golf season by competing in the Vermont State Meet. For a team composed mostly of untested sophs they fared very well in the inter-collegiate ranks.

Under the guidance of "Doc" Jacobs they posted a 2-1 record. These wins came over the Norwich "Kaydets" the "Larries" of St. Lawrence, with their only set back coming at the hands of the already once beaten linksmen from Norwich.

DURKIN UNDEFEATED

There has been no particular standout on this team but the most consistent by far has been Captain John Durkin who has not fallen at the hands of one of his opponents.

The squad's first win of the season came at Norwich on May 1. This was the one to win for it got the team off the tee and on the fairway.

The fact that Norwich was S.M.C's first match made no noticeable difference in the scores and Dave Barry led the contingent with a scorching 78.

The team's next match was against St. Lawrence and again the Knights showed their cleats to the opposition and came out on top. This time it was John Halpin who led the scorers over the hills and dales of Canton and posted a round of 78.

NORWICH REVENGE

The Burlington links now being opened saw the Knights play host to Norwich. Here the squad did not find Norwich as easy as before and proceeded to drop their first match of the season. In spite of this set back soph. John Hamilton and senior John Durkin tied for scoring honors at 81.

The season being in full swing, the squad traveled to Norwich, Conn. for the New England College Meet. Here they met the best in New England and although they did not fare very well they gained valuable experience for next season. In the midst of this top-flite competition and pressure John Durkin came through in fine style and shot a very commendable round of 84.

With "Doc" Jacobs showing a very keen interest in this years squad, it's a bet that next years team will be bigger and better than ever.

Markey's New Line-up Is Unsuccessful

ST. PETER GOOD IN RELIEF

The 1959 baseball season at St. Michael's ended Wednesday as the Knights lost their 8th game in 10 starts. A revamped starting line-up which saw Dan Mahoney catching and Dick Guilmette in left was not enough to stop Norwich. The Kadets won 4-2.

When the Markeymen won their first home game against Middlebury and followed it by another win over Plattsburgh on the Saturday of Junior Weekend, it appeared as though the correct formula had been found.

However, UVM promptly killed all chances for an even season by shutting SMC out 9-0. It was the second time the Catamounts beat St. Michael's, the other score being 6-3.

KNIGHTS AHEAD

In the final game against Norwich, SMC jumped ahead 1-0 early in the game when Denny McCarthy got on first when he was tipped by the catcher's glove, stole second and scored on an infield out.

The Kadets came right back in their half of the second and scored 3 big ones on a lot of walks and a few wild pitches. John Stewart who started was quickly replaced by Ralph St. Peter. "Saint" pitched the rest of the game and gave up only one run which could have been avoided.

RALLY STOPPED

In the last of the ninth, down 4-1, the Knights staged a slight threat and were only put away by a disputed call on the last out.

With two men on and two out, McCarthy who has played great ball all year, singled to right to score Mahoney and took second on the throw.

Camilo Brenes stood in the way of a win for Charley Nason and he dribbled the ball up third-whence developed a close play at first. All the fans near the play seemed to think the throw pulled the first base men off the bag but the man in blue signaled an out. Earlier, Brenes had made one of the greatest running backward one handed stab catches ever seen at St. Michael's. It led easily to the Knights' fifth double play.

Thus St. Michael's ended its worst season in years, finishing last in the Vermont Conference.

2-8 Record May Be Bettered In 1960

Having seen the end of one of the worst baseball seasons ever on the Hilltop, St. Michael's can look with hope towards next year's diamond contingent which will loose only two players.

Ralph St. Peter and Jim DesRoches are scheduled to graduate this June and although both will be missed in '60, the Knights will be all Seniors and Juniors next season.

STARTING LINEUP

The starting lineup on the last day of this campaign had only one Senior. DesRoches watched the game from the stands with a broken toe. The team was made up of all Sophomores except for Joe Dudley, a Junior.

If experience is any measure of a team's success SMC should have a winning season in '60. The infield is pretty stable and Markey has enough material for an outfield. The only problem remaining is a good catcher and some pitching.

Dave Carmody who quit this year plans on giving it another go in '60 and his big left handed swing may be just the medicine for the other end of the battery.

The pitching staff will be helped by Tony Belanger, a Freshman who looked OK in practice. Also trying to aid the mound group will be Wally Podres, brother of the famed Johnny Podres who won the World Series for the Brooklyn Dodgers back in '56.

Wait 'till next year!
